The Christ the King Cathedral in Tagum City is the present seat of the Diocese of Tagum and became the cathedral as the diocese grew and needed a larger central church; construction of the "new" cathedral site was prepared and begun in 1993 on donated land, and after about 12 years of work it was solemnly dedicated on October 11, 2005, a date that coincided with the diocese's 25th anniversary, with the former cathedral thereafter being referred to as the Christ the Eucharistic King parish/community; the cathedral is also popularly known for its large devotional features, including its prominent rosary display and sacred art that highlight its patron, Christ the King.
